

Call for Papers: 3rd Discrimination and Diversity Workshop

Organised by the University of East Anglia

School of Economics and Centre for Behavioural and Experimental Social Science

SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS

Discrimination against women and minority groups is an issue of ongoing discourse and its socioeconomic impact has gained much scholarly attention in recent years. Organisations and communities have engaged in wide-ranging practices to promote and encourage diversity, albeit with varying degrees of effectiveness. There remain open questions and much room for further research on these two frontiers.

To bring together scholars engaging in active research in these areas, we are organising our 3rd Discrimination and Diversity Workshop on 21 and 22 June 2023, which will be held virtually to allow for greater inclusivity.

We are pleased to have the following special speakers confirmed:

- J. Aislinn Bohren (University of Pennsylvania)
- Patricia Cortés (Boston University)

It is also our pleasure to welcome invited speakers to chair and lead discussions in sessions dedicated to these five topics:

- Gender in Education and the Workplace (by Anne Boring, Erasmus University Rotterdam)
- LGBTQ+ Individuals (by Michael E. Martell, Bard College)
- Leadership and Role Models (by Danila Serra, Texas A&M University)
- Violence against Women and Minorities (by Zahra Siddique, University of Bristol)
- Race and Ethnicity (by Bryan Stuart, Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia)

Given the virtual format of the workshop, we will have sessions that cater to different time zones. We especially encourage submissions from early-career researchers and doctoral students, and from all geographic areas.

The School of Economics and the Centre for Behavioural and Experimental Social Science at UEA will be funding two Outstanding Paper Awards worth £500 each, specifically targeted at recognizing and promoting the excellent work by junior researchers.

To submit your paper to the workshop, please submit an extended abstract (4,000 characters, or about 500 words) via the online form. We especially encourage submission of full papers if available. More information about our workshop can be found on our website.
